

FRIENDSHIP

---

FACTS

---

Why do you like your best friends? What is it about them that makes you want to be their friend?

Is it easier or more difficult to be friends with someone of the opposite sex? Why?

What makes it hard to be friends with someone who is the opposite gender?

Why do you think communication is important in a friendship—especially with the opposite sex?

How important do you think laughter is to having a good friendship? How important is honesty? Explain.

What are some benefits that you might have when you are friends with the opposite gender?

When you do have close friends of the opposite sex, how do your friends, peers and family respond to your relationships?

If someone you know wanted to become better friends with a person of the opposite sex, what advice would you give to him or her?

